The Relationship between the Physical and the Moral in Man
Translated by Dorion Armstrong, University of the West of England, Bristol, UK & Joseph Spadola, frequently referred to as the "French Kant", Maître de Brian was dubbed the greatest French metaphysician since Descartes by Henri Bergson.
His philosophical vocabulary and key concepts still play an undeniably central role in contemporary continental philosophy. This volume shows Brian within the development of modern French, German and British philosophy and illustrates the deep influence he had on major figures such as Maurice Merleau-Ponty, Michel Henry, and Paul Ricoeur.
Appearing in translation for the first time, this key work and accompanying essays makes the mature thought of this highly important philosopher available to English speaking audiences.

Anti-Badiou
The Introduction of Maoism into Philosophy
Francis Laruelle, Université de Paris X, Nanterre, France
In a new paperback edition, this compelling and highly original book represents a confrontation between two of the most radical thinkers at work today: Alain Badiou and the author, Francis Laruelle.
Anti-Badiou relates the past history of Badiou's radical ontology of the void and Laruelle's own performative practice of non-philosophy and explains why the two are in fact radically different. Badiou's entire project aims to re-define philosophy through use of science, mathematics. Laruelle carefully examines Badiou's being and event and shows how Badiou has created a new ambiguity that censors his own philosophy as the master of an entire philosophical universe.

Conditions
Alain Badiou, École Normale Supérieure, France
"Conditions is Badiou's most important collection of essays [...] In addition to fundamental meditations on the status of general categories like philosophy and truth, the essays collected here include some of Badiou's most significant and lively engagements with the specific 'conditions' of his own philosophical orientation, in the fields of literature, mathematics, politics and law."
Peter Hallward, Kingston University, UK
"Conditions... remains Alain Badiou's magnum opus and the most exhaustive exposition of his philosophical system. Being and Event [...] is clear and still relevant definition of what it means to think in the twenty-first century." - Black & White Philosophical Reviews
